

Wooly Bugger by Denise Bruner

Materials

Body - cactus chenille medium

pearl and one webby feather

Hook - Gamakatsu SP11-3L3H

#4

Eyes - Lead XS

Tail - Root beer marabou

Tying Sequence

Lay a base wrap on the whole length of the hook to the beginning of the hook bend and advance the thread to about 1/8th behind the hook eye and tie in the eyes on top of the hook. Go back to the hook and tie a bunch of marabou as a tail about one hook length long.

Tie in the base of the feather in front of the tail then the chenille. Palmer the chenille around the hook, up to the eyes, where it is tied off.

Palmer the feather around the body up to the hook eye and tie it off. Whip finish and use head cement to finish the wraps at the head.
